

Bunny Rabbit

The Lovers and Crypts

Tour 2007

with Clovis Heald

BUNNY RABBIT was born in the 80's with a heart made of diamond and an ass full of maple syrup. Lovers and Crypts, her debut album, is a record of midnight freestyle nursery rhymes bred through the martyrs of hip hop, punk and folk. The live show features BLACK CRACKER (Celena Glenn), the producer of the album who has also produced tracks with CocoRosie and toured with them several times as their beatboxer

The album, released by Voodoo-Eros Records, is receiving high praises including features in VIBE, URB, PLAYBOY, and the NEW YORKER, as well as being serviced to commercial, college, and internet radio by Terrorbird Media and MOTORMOUTHMEDIA with international distribution handled by Touch and Go Records. CLOVIS HEALD collages cloudy pop songs pulling from a folk and ambient background. He has worked with such artists as Odd Nosdam (cLOUDEAD), Josiah Wolf (WHY?) and has a split 7" w/ the Bomarr Monk due in April 2007 on Anticon Records. Other Projects include an installation on the next Sneakmove 1min song comp and a self released ambient record entitled 'wading for motorcycles.'
